Swiss Federal Stamp Duty	Secondary market transactions are not subject to Swiss stamp duty.
Swiss Federal Income Tax (for private investors with tax domicile in Switzerland)	For private investors with tax domicile in Switzerland holding the Product as part of their private property, gains realised during the term of the Product and on the Redemption Date qualify as capital gains and are therefore not subject to the Federal Direct Tax. Swiss Withholding Tax	The Product is not subject to the Swiss withholding tax.
EU Savings Tax	For Swiss paying agents, the Product is not subject to the EU Savings tax (TK9).

For Investors resident in a state with whom Switzerland has concluded a bilateral agreement on a final withholding tax (currently in place with Austria and the United Kingdom) and provided the product is held in a custody account with a qualifying Swiss paying agent (deposit bank), any investment income or realised capital gains might be subject to the final withholding tax as laid out in the respective bilateral agreement. The applicable tax rate depends on the home country of the investor and the category of capital income or capital gain.

Thus, the Investor is exposed to the foreign exchange risk with regard to the taxable income calculation and thus also the withholding tax calculation, if applicable.

Any payment under this Product may be subject to withholding tax (such as, inter alia, withholding related to FATCA or 871(m) of the US Tax Code). If an amount in respect of Section 871(m) of the U.S. Tax Code were to be deducted or withheld from interest, principal or other payments on the Products, none of the Issuer, any Paying Agent or any other person would be required to pay additional amounts as a result of the deduction or withholding of such tax, i.e. the Investor would receive a significant lower amount than he would have received without such deduction or withholding.
